Report on Adult Beginners Chess Course

It was decided to run a course of 8 weeks, commencing 25th January to 14th March at a meeting room at Les Cotils, St Peter Port, Guernsey, with sessions from 7pm to 8.30pm.

The initial uptake was 12 persons with a waiting list of 7. Of the original 12, 3 found it impossible to attend on Thursday evenings for the first 3 weeks and withdrew and 1 person after attending the first week, decided to attend the Guernsey Chess Club and withdrew. There was 1 more withdrawal after the first week and 1 person from the waiting list was invited to attend. Things settled down with 8 regulars consisting of 6 adults and 2 teenagers. The average attendance over 8 weeks was 7.4. Those attending could be classed as beginners or novices with very little experience of playing chess.

The course was delivered by Peter Rowe and was based on the CSC Chess in Schools and Communities using the Curriculum for Primary Schools but adapted where appropriate for adults. In weeks 1 and 2 we covered the moves of the pieces. In week 3 we looked at how to win a chess game, check, checkmate, stalemate and other ways in which a chess could be drawn. In week 4 we recapped, discussed the relative value of the pieces and looked at simple checkmates and openings. From week 4 we allowed sufficient time for attendees to pair off and play games after the more formal “learning” time. In weeks 5 and 6 we looked at how to force checkmate in simple endings and other typical checkmate positions. We moved on to discuss how to win material with tactical devices such as “forks”. In week 7 we made a list of tactical weapons: forks, skewers and pins and studied examples. In week 8 we added discovered check, discovered threats and “decoy and destroy” to the list and studied some examples.

Verbal feedback was positive and the mother of one of the teenagers confirmed by email that her son had found the course of interest and he had enjoyed it very much. We need to consider running another beginner’s course and a higher-level course but we may need to avoid summertime.
